Section B – Context

Making sure the Company meets its business and statutory requirements

Multiplicity and interconnectivity of risks has given rise to a persistent and disruptive volatility in business operations. Given the integrated nature of operations in a globalised era, risks faced by organisations are intertwined, regardless of their location or source.

Uncertainties arising from recent developments, especially events like the COVID-19 pandemic, has aggravated the level of risk exposure to organisations. Governments and regulatory bodies across the world have responded to this challenge by reinforcing risk management as a critical paradigm of business governance.

The foundation of the risk management process for listed companies in India was laid down by Clause 49 of the listing agreement which assigned responsibilities related to this on the Company and the Board. The importance of risk management is further increased by the amendment in the SEBI LODR in May'21 for listed Companies. Some of these are detailed below:

- a. The Companies Act, 2013: Provisions of the Section 134(3) requires a report by its Board of Directors indicating development and implementation of a risk management policy for the company including identification therein of elements of risk, if any, which in the opinion of the Board may threaten the existence of the company to be attached to financial statements laid before a company in general meeting. Further, it enhances role of audit committee to include evaluation of internal financial controls and risk management systems.
- b. Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) (Second Amendment) Regulations, 2021: Per amendment dated 5th May 2021, the regulator has laid down additional requirements and emphasised the need of holistic risk management to improve corporate governance standards of listed companies in India. Schedule V (Para C, 5A) requires listed companies to disclose the following about risk management committee (RMC) in the annual report:
 - Brief description of terms of reference
 - Composition, name of members and chairperson
 - Meetings and attendance during the year

As part of the robust governance framework, the Company had established and rolled out the risk management policy. In view of the recent amendment in SEBI LODR, the existing risk management policy has been revised to further strengthen its focus on risks management at enterprises level.

HBL's Risk Management Policy

The Company aims to develop appropriate organisation capabilities in risk management so as to ensure a consistent, efficient, and effective assessment of risks in the achievement of the company objectives. The Company views risk management as integral to its objective of successful execution of its strategies. This manual has been developed to provide guidance on how we can implement a risk management process for our business. It should be understood that risk management is not a new and separate task that needs to be performed. It involves determining risks that could potentially prevent the organization from achieving its objectives. It includes documenting and communicating the concern. External and internal risk factors that could potentially affect performance vis-à-vis the stated objectives are identified through various forums such as:

- Workshops, / Interviews / Surveys,
- Desktop research,
- Business review meetings, etc.

The Company conducts periodic workshops with all functional heads to identify any emerging internal or external risks applicable to the Company. In line with the SEBI LODR, the Company shall classify all applicable enterprise risks for the Company in below stated broad categories:

Risk Classification	Risk drivers	Indicative Risk Factors
Sectoral Risks	Key sectoral risks applicable to all entities in the sector	Geographic concentrations in Lithium, Cobalt, and nickel markets.
		Geopolitical disruption
		Absolute Technology
		Intellectual property

Others	Risks not covered above and any other risks determined by the RMC

Since risk identification is a continuous process, management is encouraged to identify and report significant risks that may exist or likely to occur.

Assess Risks

Once risks have been identified, risks should be evaluated to determine which are of an unacceptable nature and which should be targeted for mitigation. In order to do this, risks must be prioritised by evaluating the potential impact on business objectives if a risk were to materialise, together with the likelihood of occurrence.

Risks should be assessed by evaluating the uncertainty of events or conditions in terms of:

- Potential impact if it does occur
- Likelihood of a risk occurring
- Velocity speed at which risk might impact the organization

The parameters for impact and likelihood laid down by the Company for the purpose of risk assessment are as follows:

Risk Exposure (using the rating scale)

The risk exposure determines what risks are reported at the Senior Management level including Risk Management committee. For the Company, 5x5 rating scale is suggested to capture management’s assessment of the Impact of a risk, potential likelihood and velocity of the risk.

Impact, Likelihood and Velocity – the probability of risk occurring and speed at which it happens along with severity of impact if a

Risk Exposure denotes significance of risk and is measured using risk score. Risk Score= impact * likelihood * velocity

Critical (100-125)	Critical risk exposure which requires continuous attention and immediate response from management and needs to be reported to Board on periodic basis
Major (48-99)	Very high level of risk exposure which requires continuous attention and immediate response from management and needs to be reported to Board on a quarterly basis
Moderate (10-47)	Acceptable level of risk exposure which requires regular active monitoring and measures to be put in place to reduce exposure
Minor (1-9)	Acceptable level of risk exposure which requires regular passive monitoring measures

Risk Response

Management should identify risk response options and consider their effect on likelihood and impact, with the intent of bringing the risk exposure within acceptable limits. In many cases, management may also need to consider cost-benefit analysis before designing the risk responses.

Scientifically, each risk response could be categorized into 4Ts – Termination, Treatment, Transfer or Take – also called the 4T's risk strategies.

Risk response categories can be summarised as follows:

Category	Risk Responses
Termination/ Avoid	Actions to exit the activity that causes the risk. For example, risks classified with High Impact as well as High Likelihood could be handled in this manner.
Take/ Accept	Take no action to affect likelihood and impact; accept and live with the risk exposure. For example, risks classified with Low Impact and Low Likelihood could be handled in this manner.
Treat/ Reduce	Actions to reduce the risk exposure by reducing the likelihood, impact, or both
Transfer/ Share	Actions to reduce the likelihood or impact by transfer the full or portion of the risk

Examples of the 4Ts are:

Monitoring/ Reporting

Monitoring is a process that assesses both the presence and functioning of Risk Management Process. As the risk exposure of the company may undergo change from time to time due to continuously changing environment, the risks with their mitigation measures shall be updated on a regular basis.

The Complaints Committee is responsible for:

- Investigating every formal written complaint of sexual harassment
- Taking appropriate remedial measures to respond to any substantiated allegations of sexual harassment
- Discouraging and preventing employment-related sexual harassment.

It is to be noted that the Internal Complaint Committee will not entertain any oral or anonymous complaints.

The Committee shall in each calendar year prepare an annual report stating the number of complaints received during the year, number of complaints disposed off during the year and such other information as required and submit it to the employers.

VI. PROCEDURE FOR INFORMAL GRIEVANCE REDRESSAL

Informal processes normally involve an intermediary means for resolving a problem. In the case of Sexual Harassment, at first instance, the person (i.e. HOD/ P&A / Woman representative of the location) may be the point of first contact for anyone seeking informal support/intervention to stop unwelcome behavior.

A sense of restraint and responsibility on the part of all concerned is critical for the effective functioning of these guidelines. The preventive / informal process that can be adopted is as follows:

1. Convey to the person who is the cause of distress, about what that person's actions, words, behavior is doing and convey in no uncertain terms that such behavior is not appreciated. What is important is the "Way" a particular behavior, action or word is perceived; "Intent" is of no consequence.
2. The second step would be to approach someone within the company – preferably your Superior or P&A Representative. The Superior or P&A Representative would then try and counsel / talk it over with a view towards closing the matter amicably.
3. In any case all such incidents along with the resolution, needs to be reported to the Head of P&A who will then provide a short report to the Internal Complaints Committee and the matter will be closed.

4. However, in the event of it not being resolved, then it would need to be escalated to the Internal Complaints Committee.

VII. PROCEDURES FOR RESOLUTION, SETTLEMENT OR PROSECUTION OF ACTS OF SEXUAL HARASSMENT:

In the event of the complaint not being resolved through informal mechanism, then it would need to be escalated to the Internal Complaint Committee for redressal. The Company is committed to providing a supportive environment to resolve concerns of sexual harassment as under:

1. An employee with a harassment concern may make a formal complaint to the Presiding Officer of the Complaints Committee constituted by the Management. The complaint shall have to be in writing and can be in form of a letter, preferably within 5 days from the date of occurrence of the alleged incident, sent in a sealed envelope. Alternately, the employee can send complaint through an email. The employee is required to disclose their name, department, division and location they are working in, to enable the Presiding Officer to contact them and take the matter forward.
2. The Presiding Officer of the Complaints Committee will proceed to determine whether the allegations (assuming them to be true only for the purpose of this determination) made in the complaint fall under the purview of Sexual Harassment, preferably within 30 days from receipt of the complaint.

In the event, the allegation does not fall under the purview of Sexual Harassment or the allegation does not constitute an offence of Sexual Harassment, the Presiding Officer will record this finding with reasons and communicate the same to the complainant.

3. If the Presiding Officer of the Complaints Committee determines that the allegations constitute an act of sexual harassment, he/ she will proceed to investigate the allegation with the assistance of the Complaints Committee.
4. Where such conduct, on the part of the accused, amounts to a specific offence under the law, the Company shall initiate appropriate action in accordance with law by making a complaint with the appropriate authority.
5. The Complaints Committee shall conduct such investigations in a timely manner and shall submit a written report containing the findings and recommendations to the Executive Director & Head of P&A Department as soon as practically possible and in any case, not later than 60 days from the date of receipt of the complaint. The Executive Director & Head of P&A Department will ensure corrective action on the recommendations of the Complaints Committee and keep the complainant informed of the same.

Corrective action may include any of the following:

- a. Formal apology;
 - b. Counseling;
 - c. Written warning to the perpetrator and a copy of it maintained in the employee's file;
 - d. Change of work assignment / transfer for either the perpetrator or the victim;
 - e. Withholding promotion;
 - f. Suspension or termination of services of the employee found guilty of the offence.
6. In case the complaint is found to be false, the Complainant shall, if deemed fit, be liable for appropriate disciplinary action by the Management.

VIII. CONFIDENTIALITY:

The Company understands that it is difficult for the victim to come forward with a complaint of sexual harassment and recognizes the victim's interest in keeping the matter confidential.

To protect the interests of the victim, the accused person and others who may report incidents of sexual harassment, confidentiality will be maintained throughout the investigatory process to the extent practicable and appropriate under the circumstances.

IX. PROTECTION TO COMPLAINANT / VICTIM:

The Company is committed to ensuring that no employee who brings forward a harassment concern is subject to any form of reprisal. Any reprisal will be subject to disciplinary action.

The Company will ensure that the victim or witnesses are not victimized or discriminated against while dealing with complaints of sexual harassment.

However, anyone who abuses the procedure (for example, by maliciously putting an allegation knowing it to be untrue) will be subject to disciplinary action.
